

Interested in Group Communication?

Clipper Group is looking for a Student Assistant to assist our Group Communication Officer in creating content, optimizing our internal and external communication, and in helping with various branding and communication tasks worldwide.

You are probably a first-year master student in communication at CBS or another university, and need work experience to complement your studies. It is imperative that you are fluent in English, take an interest in how communication can support and drive business, and take responsibility for your tasks. You will work 10-15 hours a week – exact days and times can be adjusted to your study plan.

YOU HAVE GOOD WRITING AND COMMUNICATION SKILLS

- You are fluent in both spoken and written business English
- You have excellent communication skills, enjoy creating content and have a flair for social media
- You are interested in the shipping industry, and enjoy learning and researching new topics
- You have the ability to coordinate multiple tasks simultaneously and have an eye for detail
- You enjoy working independently and have a responsible approach to tasks
- Familiarity with Adobe CC and/or working with video is a plus but not mandatory

We believe that trust is a great motivator. We wish you to have a positive and open attitude and not be afraid to ask for help. You should be able to identify creative solutions, to challenge our existing set-up, and truly wish to contribute to communication at Clipper.

YOU WILL BE A KEY PLAYER RESPONSIBLE FOR

- Writing news and content for clipper-group.com and our intranet Clipper Bridge
- Updating, maintaining and creating content for Clipper's corporate profiles on social media
- Managing our web analytics tools, news subscriptions service and media surveillance account
- Helping HR with employer branding, job ads and various other tasks, especially in relation to our Shipping Trainee Program
- Playing an active part in (re)defining the Clipper brand promise
- Being an internal ambassador to engage employees to contribute to communication, bringing together our offices worldwide

We offer an exciting student position in a good working environment and excellent working conditions in modern facilities with a lunch scheme, fitness room and staff activities.
